

David Laudenslager

David Laudenslager is a National Fight Director and Representative for the Northern California Charter of The Saber Legion (TSL), the international LED saber combat organization. He is very excited to be one of the hosts of TSL Underground at Clockwork Alchemy. He was the director of the 4th Effervescent Etherblade Tournament, which occurred during Clockwork Alchemy 2019. David has fought in TSL international tournaments in Minneapolis and Las Vegas, where he has placed in every year since 2017. He also fights in the TSL Championship Series division, where he is currently one half of the TSL Tag Team Champions. In addition to LED saber combat, David is a practitioner of British singlestick and spear and currently trains in Italian rapier at the Davenriche European Martial Artes School. David lives in the Bay Area with his wife and two children, working as a Software QA Engineer at Apple.

Tournament TSL Aetherblade Open

The 2022 Etherblade Open, here again at Clockwork Alchemy, is hosted by The Saber Legion (TSL) Steampunk Charter.

Join us for the first Northern California Saber Legion Tournament of 2022. All are invited to come and watch, however participation is for active TSL members. Anyone that has attended any of the War Room classes on LED Saber Flourishes and Choreography will enjoy seeing these skills taken to full contact combat levels. Saber Legion armor requirements will be in effect. Rules and videos from previous tournaments can be found on The Saber Legion Facebook and Youtube pages.
